

I'M TOO LAZY EBP (EYE BLINK PROGRAM)

Now a days we use Android or iOS mobile phones which are are highly secured. Also we use many apps and security codes in our mobile phones. Among these face recognition is also used for security purposes.

And some time we feel bored to scroll down or up of the feeds. And we are already lazy to tap on screen while sleeping. So my Idea is to develop an app which works based on our eye movements so that we can reduce the use of our hands and even it makes our phone so secure.

By using phone inbuilt face recognition sensors we can operate our app. By taking eye as an operator we can move any apps or data in our mobile. It works only on recognized eye of a person so nobody can operate it other than the person who's eye information is already fixed or known.

By this app we can help many handicapped persons and it is more useful to women when ever they are in trouble no need to access their phone through hands by observing her eyes it recognises her fear and sends sms and call to the near by police station and ambulance. And even no need to use her mobile to send sms or phone call if the person who is troubling her if he is using a mobile phone if it is on or he is taking any women's photo it recognises only fear of her eyes not anything else. So that we can reduce the fear of a women by the person who is troubling her.

By just blinking of our eyes only we can scroll the feeds . We can take photos (selfie), we can even send sms and play games. And I know that it will be so fun.

Even the handicapped people easily use this app . Deaf and dumb people will enjoy this app because they use a language called sign language which is based on hands movement and eye expression . So this app converts there action into words then it is easy to communicate a normal person or a physically challenged person with other people.

And market needs new featured mobile phones or apps so if we develop this type of app we can easily click on the market.

It spreads very easily in the market because we are so lazy people while sleeping and using mobile phones and useful as a security app and personal useful app .

Thank you.

Vinayaka H

E and I

2nd year

01JST18EI053

vinayakah555@gmail.com

9380105790

